

DOANE FOILED IN ATTEMPT TO SAW WAY OUT OF JAIL

Desperate Prisoner Planned to Make Escape This Week

HID FINE STEEL SAWS IN BANDAGE AROUND LEG

Snap Is Given Away by Fellow Prisoner and Outlaw Is Searched and Placed Under Heavy Guard.

Special to the Morning Journal.

Gallup, N. M., Nov. 26.—Claude Doane, murderer and horse thief, after laying careful plans, was foiled in an attempt to escape from the McKinley county jail. But for the sharp eye of a fellow prisoner he might now be leading the officers of the law another merry chase through the wilds of New Mexico. As it is he has been placed under heavy guard and will not have another chance to make even an attempt at getting his liberty. Doane intended to cut through the bars of his cell windows with some fine steel hack saws and with another day's time would probably have escaped.

It is thought that Doane took the saws into jail with him when he was committed after his indictment by the McKinley county grand jury. They were seen by a man in the prison who secretly informed Sheriff Codrington of the fact that Doane was planning to make a get-away. The officers immediately went to the jail and searched the prisoner and were rewarded by the discovery of two fine steel saws secreted in a bandage which Doane had around one of his legs. One of the saws was fitted with a handle made out of the ball of a fard ball.

The bandage was around a gunshot wound in the leg which Doane received at the time he was captured. When he was put in jail the bandage was the only part of his clothing that was not searched.

After the discovery of the saws the prisoner was stripped and thoroughly searched again, but no further implements were found on him. Doane had nothing to say about the matter and relapsed into sullen silence.

It is thought his bluff at pleading guilty to second degree murder was only a ruse and that he intended to break jail Saturday or Sunday night.

RANCH FOREMAN KILLED IN HORRIBLE MANNER NEAR PHOENIX

I. W. Watt, foreman of Dan McDermott's ranch, five miles west of the city on the Yuma road, met death in a peculiar and horrible manner Friday night sometime, while driving to his home from Phoenix.

The tragedy was discovered by a ranch hand, a boy of 20, who went to the barn in the morning about 6 o'clock and found the horse and cart driven to town by Watt the day before were in the shed. Going near he saw the body of the foreman lying on his side, his head against the wall of the shed. The body was covered with blood and the horse was standing over it.

The boy immediately telephoned to Sheriff Walker, who started promptly for the scene, after notifying the coroner. Along the way he found no evidence of anyone having intercepted the buggy anywhere. Arriving at the ranch he learned that Watt had come to town without any money to speak of—he had about 75 cents—and the robbery and murder theory which had occurred to the sheriff was dispelled.

Mr. Walker's theory is that Watt toppled over while en route home from the city, and that in falling his head came in contact with one of the wheels of his cart. It is reported that he had been drinking and it is believed that he was further incapacitated by striking his head against the wheels as he fell.

The horse continued its journey and the revolving wheel wore the man's head away. Two or three of the spokes are broken and clots of blood and hair show how the man met his death.

MINER WAS BURIED ALIVE IN COLLAPSING MINE SIX HOURS

William Esser, the timber man who was buried in a cave in the Ora Bella mine last Saturday night, is said to be recovering as fast as could be expected under the circumstances. His injuries, while of a painful nature, show no indication so far of serious hurt internally, says the Prescott Journal-Miner.

The particulars of the accident as learned yesterday, are that he and another miner were about to repair the timbers in an ore chute in the mine, which was apparently filled with rock to the surface of the level above. While making an effort to get the rock in the chute started downward it suddenly gave way, carrying him with it in its downward course, covering him up so deep that it took the entire force of miners, who worked like Trojans, six and one-half hours to dig him out. He was found with his head resting close to the footwall, with a rock resting on his right shoulder which weighed about 250 pounds. The dust and dirt filled his nostrils, and were it not for the fact that a rock about as large as a man's fist lodged in his mouth, leaving or rather holding one side of it open, through which he was enabled to breathe, he would have been smothered before help could reach him.

LAMOTT ARRESTED FOR PASSING A BAD CHECK

CLOTHING DEALER SAYS HE WAS SHOVING QUEER PAPER

E. E. Lamott was arrested about 5:30 o'clock yesterday evening for passing a worthless check. He will appear for a hearing before Judge Crawford in police court this morning.

Lamott, who has been a partner in a cleaning and pressing establishment in the rear of the offices of the Sellers Printing company, was arrested on complaint of George Segli, who runs a gentlemen's clothing establishment at 313 South First street. Segli says Lamott purchased an overcoat at his store Saturday and tendered in payment a check for twenty-five dollars. Upon investigation it was found that the paper was worthless, as Lamott had no funds in the bank wherewith to meet it. The matter will be threshed out before his honor in the temple of justice this morning.

STOPS ANY ITCHING.

Doan's Ointment Cures Eczema and Itching Piles. Albuquerque People Recommend It.

One application of Doan's Ointment stops any itching. Short treatment cures eczema, itching piles, salt rheum—any skin eruption or skin itching. It is the cheapest remedy to use, because so little of it is required to bring relief and a cure. Here is Albuquerque testimony to prove it:

Mrs. R. E. Waite, rooming house, 202 North Second street, says:

"There came to my notice some time ago a case of eczema or of some disease of the skin, which had resisted all the efforts of the party to stop. Doan's Ointment was procured and a course of treatment commenced. It gave positive relief after an application or two and upon a continuation of it for some time the annoyance ceased. This information should be of untold value to residents of Albuquerque who are in quest of an article upon which they can depend to cure any itching of the skin or eruption thereof. Price 50 cents. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

AGAINST SUNDAY SALOONS.

Reported Crusade to be Started at Chicago, Nov. 26.—Arrangements have been made with justices and detectives to issue and serve 5,000 warrants on saloonkeepers who keep their places open next Sunday. While no one could be found last night who would stand sponsor for this new and practical movement in support of the current crusade against the Sunday saloon, it was reported that clergymen who have been leaders in the reform movement were to take the initiative in the new fight.

The ministers, who, under the leadership of Rev. Dr. W. A. Bartlett, of the First Congregational church, have repeatedly urged Mayor Dunne to enforce the Sunday closing law, are said to have formed an alliance that will go over the head of the mayor in future and seek to bring about their desired reform without his aid.

JAP STEAMER GOES DOWN ELEVEN ARE MISSING

Fukura Collides With Ikuta and Sinks Her to Bottom.

Tokio, Nov. 26.—The steamer Fukura, bound for the Liaung peninsula, collided with the steamer Ikuta near Mulsura, not far from Shimonoseki last night. The Ikuta, which was struck amidships, sank immediately. Most of the people on board were saved. Eleven are missing.

SERVED TWELVE YEARS AS SHERIFF OF COUNTY OF VALENCIA

Dionisio Chavez, one of the old residents of central New Mexico and for many years a prominent native citizen died yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the residence of his son, Meliton Chavez, at 508 West Silver avenue. The funeral services will be held at the residence of the latter at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and friends and relatives of the deceased are invited to attend.

Dionisio Chavez had reached the ripe age of 74 years and is survived by a wife, four sons and two daughters. They are Mrs. Soledad Sanchez y Chavez, Meliton, Jose E. Julian and Ramon Chavez, and Mrs. Juinita Abeyta and Mrs. Adelaida Baca.

The deceased had been a resident of Albuquerque for several months at the time of his death, but at a former time lived here for about ten years. He was for twelve years sheriff of Valencia county and lived at that time at Valencia. For fifteen years he was county treasurer of Valencia county. In both of his official capacities he was faithful and efficient and his record for service is longer than that of almost any other man who has held similar positions in Valencia county. His sons and daughters are well known and respected people of Albuquerque and the sympathy of all is extended them in their bereavement.

HUNDREDS OF HORSES KILLED TO PREVENT SPREAD OF GLANDERS

Dr. J. C. Norton, Arizona veterinarian, has been in Kingman for several days, near where last Saturday twenty-four glandered horses were killed under his orders. Several dozen other animals have been isolated to await developments, it being believed that they have contracted the disease from some of the animals that were killed. Dr. Norton has made an examination of several hundred head of horses and mules in Kingman, and several other places, and has found the conditions here unusually bad. In order to completely stamp out the disease, it may be necessary to kill several hundred head of horses and mules. The disease has been brought into this country from the California side, and gained a considerable foothold before being called to the attention of the authorities. Dr. Norton's plans are made to rid Mohave county of the glanders.

The doctor's confidence in the complete stamping out of the disease is strengthened largely by his experience in Salt valley ten years ago, when there was an epidemic of the disease on the north side. At that time fifty glandered horses were killed, and there has never been a case in that part of the country since then.
